

KIWANIS IN BIG BANQUET IN THIS CITY

INDIANAPOLIS-TERRE HAUTE KIWANIS GUESTS OF GREENCASTLE ORGANIZATION.

SPLENDID PROGRAM

Music Furnished By Bittles & Bittles' Orchestra and The Pennsylvania Male Quartette.

Approximately one hundred members of the Indianapolis, Terre Haute and Greencastle Kiwanis Clubs attended the banquet at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. It was the first inter-club meeting given by the local Kiwanis since last October and those who were present had a splendid time. The rainy weather and numerous other engagements reduced the attendance somewhat, otherwise there would have been more than 150 Kiwanians in attendance.

Music for the banquet was furnished by Jim Bittles, pianist, Bill Bittles, cornet and saxophone, and Keith Robinson, drums. The Pennsylvania quartet of the Ft. Wayne Division was present and gave two short programs which made a big hit. The banquet was secured through the efforts of J. M. Helling, local Pennsylvania railroad agent and member of the Greencastle club.

A short address of the welcome delivered by Rev. C. Howard, president of the local organization. As Dr. Taylor stated, the visit might be entertained in finer style but the welcome could never be sincere.

Members of the Indianapolis and Terre Haute clubs responded with words of gladness in being able to attend the banquet and that they would be glad to place them at the Greencastle club. Each club expressed regret that more of their members were unable to come and that better results if invited another time.

As A. Hays, spoke briefly on "Things Kiwanis Isn't." Mr. Hays said that Kiwanis is not fraternal social but is an organization for the betterment of its community. Of course, such things as this tonight he stated, necessary to get the views and better acquainted with Kiwanis elsewhere.

Speeches were given by the Terre Haute and Greencastle clubs consisting of slight-of-hand performances. The banquet came to a conclusion at 9:30 p. m.

LESLIE SETS FORTH FACTS LAST NIGHT

PLEDGES STATE CLEANING IF ELECTED TO REPUBLICAN GOVERNORSHIP.

CHALLENGES HIS OPPONENT

Harry Leslie Says Jeffersonian Democrats Resent Attempt To Return To Tammany Hall Days.

CONNEYSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 18.—Pledging that "the Hoosier house will be cleaned thoroughly and without delay, wherever it may need cleaning," Harry G. Leslie, Republican candidate for governor, told a Fayette county audience here last night that he had fought a combination of evil forces when he served as speaker of the house in 1925 and 1927. "I am still fighting for clean politics and good government," declared Mr. Leslie.

"Bi-Partisan Stephenson," the speaker asserted, "was active in the lobby of the legislature." He went on to say, "The Indianapolis News praised the record of the speaker of the 1925 house and urged that he be kept on the job in 1927. That praise was given because, according to the News, the speaker had been and was being opposed by what the News called a 'machine'."

"I am yours for a clean and orderly house today as I was in the years when outside influences were trying to put through bad legislation and plunge important departments of our state government into politics. I was fighting D. C. Stephenson at the time that Texas democrat demonstrated his uncanny power over his fellow democrats by driving over to Dayton, O., and leading the fifteen striking democratic state senators back to school. On a purely political issue the democratic senators ran away—deserted their posts. It required Stephenson to tell them back. That was an abject confession of their submission to Stephensonism. At that time I was scourging the Stephenson lobby crowd from the house chamber. The News quoted my public statement approvingly.

"You know as well as I know that individual republicans and individual democrats have gone wrong from time to time. There is neither justice nor common gumption in any attempt by any person or party to condemn any political party as a whole because of individual acts by persons who are not up either for office or for vindication. I hold to the creed of Roosevelt that it is the business of those in authority and in places of responsibility to hit all wrong-doers, and to hit a little harder, if anything, those in our own party who may go wrong.

"There is a narrow partisanship back of the propaganda which seeks dishonestly to place blame on the Republican state ticket for the individual frailties or personal acts of a few persons who may have betrayed the rank and file. We welcome a comparison of the Republican record with that made by the Indiana Tammany in the days when stagnation, waste, incompetency and graft were flourishing, in the four years from 1913 to 1917.

"The people of Indiana and the Jeffersonian democrats, especially, resent the attempt by my opponent to take them back to the Tammany days. I am asking Frank Dailey, the Tammany nominee for governor, to take his stand with 'Al' Smith when the big sachem speaks in Indianapolis Oct. 20. That will be Mr. Dailey's chance to avow himself as an out-and-out Tammanyite and booster for booze and the Smith-Raskob-Tammany policies."

NEGROES ATTACK NURSE

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (UP)—Virginia Du Pont, 20, who came here from Evansville, Ind., to seek employment as a nurse, was in a serious condition at Lawndale hospital today, suffering from assaults she said were made on her by negroes.

Miss Du Pont told Judge Joseph L. McCarty she was held prisoner by Alfred Robinson, negro, and forced to submit to negroes Robinson brought in. She said she had gone to an apartment on the near south side and that Robinson forced his way in and claimed the apartment was his.

She said he threatened her with a gun and assaulted her. Miss Du Pont said she was kept in the apartment for two weeks, finally being rescued by police when Robinson and another negro, Ben Carter, quarreled over her.

Robinson was fined $300 and sentenced to year in the house of correction. Carter's case will be heard today.

HICKMAN TO HANG FRIDAY

SLAYER OF 12-YEAR OLD GIRL TO DIE ON GALLOWS AT SAN QUENTIN PRISON.

SAN QUENTIN STATE PRISON, Calif., Oct. 18. (UP)—Along with his conscience in the old death cell of San Quentin prison, William Edward Hickman today watched with outward calm the passing of the few hours of life left to him.

Shortly after 10 A. M. tomorrow Hickman will be led from the cell over the last short path of San Quentin's condemned and will mount the scaffold to forfeit his life in atonement for the murder of Marion Parker.

Hickman's final farewells were said, and the only legal means that offered a remote possibility of delay in the hanging had been abandoned. There remained for him but a little more time to spend reading or writing at a small desk in the corner of the "condemned cage" and one more night of sleep on a narrow cot in the opposite corner. Outside the cell prison guards keeping the death watch marched up and down the corridor.

POWELL ELIMINATED.

The Nonpartisan party, with only one candidate on its ticket, was eliminated from the general election next month by the state board of election commissioners yesterday.

The candidate was J. Orr Powell of Pendleton, candidate for Governor of Indiana.

The ticket was eliminated because the petition for placing it on the ballots did not comply with provisions of the election laws, according to W. W. Spencer, member of the commission.

The petition did not show that Mr. Powell was qualified to serve as Governor, as required by law, and it failed to state that signers were willing to vote for him if his name were placed on the ballots. Further ground for disqualification was found in the fact that several signers of the petition had failed to give their addresses, Mr. Spencer said.

Rev. Powell is well known here, as he is a graduate of DePauw University.

SCHOOL CASE FILED

The case of the State Ex. Rel. Samuel Cash, trustee of Adams township vs. Otis S. Secrest and Loran M. Lewis, the surviving members of the Adams township advisory board, has been filed in circuit court.

Trustee Cash asked that an order of mandamus be issued to require the defendants to meet with the trustee and take the necessary steps to provide funds for the erection of a new school building at Eminence.

The two members of the advisory board named in the mandate action have opposed the plans of the trustee to erect a new building at Eminence. William J. Moore, the other member of the board, who committed suicide this week, has stood with the trustee.

Recently Secrest and Lewis met and rescinded all action that had been taken by the board in reference to providing funds for a new building.

In the complaint it is stated that the estimated sum of $55,243 will be required for the erection of an elementary and high school building on ground that is now available at Eminence. Part of this sum is now available, but it is stated that it will be necessary to provide $50,650 to complete the building. According to the complaint Adams school township is to provide $26,650 of this sum and Adams civil township $24,000.

It is stated that there are now 100 elementary grade pupils and 60 high school pupils being taken care of under temporary arrangements at Eminence.—Martinsville Reporter.

TO ANSWER SMITH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (UP)—In his New York address Monday night, Herbert Hoover is expected to reply to the charge of his Democratic opponent, Governor Alfred E. Smith, that Republican economy in the Coolidge administration is a "Myth."

This had become today, suddenly, the outstanding issue of the campaign. The Democratic presidential candidate, in his Sedalia, Mo., speech, stirred up a veritable hornet's nest. Republican leaders at once jumped into the controversy.

SHUMAKER TO STATE FARM FRIDAY A. M.

REV. SHUMAKER READY TO SERVE STATE FARM TERM, HE ANNOUNCES.

HALTS FURTHER LEGAL ACTION

Indiana Anti-Saloon League Chief To Arrive At Penal Farm Before Noon Tomorrow.

(BULLETIN)

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 18. —Rev. Edward S. Shumaker will leave for the Indiana State Farm at Putnamville Friday morning to begin serving his 60 day sentence for contempt of the Indiana Supreme Court.

The 61 year old dry league chief today dropped his legal fight to escape serving the state farm sentence.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 18. (UP)—The Rev. Edward S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, today dropped his legal fight to escape his sentence to the Indiana State Farm for contempt of court.

Apparently reconciled to spending 60 days on the farm, Shumaker filed with the Supreme court a motion to withdraw his plea for a new trial on a motion for a rehearing of the contempt charge against him.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 18. —The Rev. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, has abandoned definitely his fight to escape a term on the Indiana state farm, it was understood yesterday.

The prohibition leader, under sentence of sixty days for contempt of the Indiana Supreme court, may surrender himself within the next few days, it was believed.

All that stands in the way of the imprisonment is disposition of motions now pending before the Supreme court in connection with the case, and issuance of a commitment by the court.

No statement would be made yesterday by the Rev. Mr. Shumaker regarding his plans to surrender himself or to abandon his fight to escape imprisonment.

"Our plans have been decided upon," he said, "but we are not making them public at this time."

The Rev. Mr. Shumaker's decision to accept the penalty imposed upon him by the Supreme court for the publication two years ago of alleged contemptuous statements regarding the American issue, in which the annual report of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League was contained, came after a reversal of the position of members of the board of trustees of the league.

When the court, last summer, handed down an opinion denying the Rev. Mr. Shumaker a rehearing, and denying the motion of Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom, who instituted the contempt proceedings, to make the penalty more severe, the trustees agreed to carry the Shumaker case to the United States Supreme court, on a writ of certiorari.

Recently, however, it was understood, the trustees held another meeting in which they advised the superintendent of the league to abandon his fight for liberty and to accept the penalty imposed by the court, which carries, in addition to the sixty days penal farm term a fine of $500.

"Aunt Lucia" is ready for you. A final dress rehearsal last night proved that the people in the cast have their parts well learned.

SMITH IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (UP)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith found the Windy City rustling with politics today and the local Democratic leaders told him it was blowing his way.

Having come here under the mistaken impression that he might rest for a day, only to find scores of plans for turbulent demonstrations the Democratic nominee succeeded to the pleas of the leaders and gave himself up to two intensive days of campaigning.

800 MEMBERS IS RED CROSS COUNTY GOAL

MRS. FRANK DONNER IS ROLL CALL CHAIRMAN FOR PUTNAM.

The Twelfth Annual Roll call of the American Red Cross will be held from Armistice Day, November 11 to Thanksgiving Day, November 29. Once a year the American Red Cross asks the public to support its humanitarian activities through membership.

Nation-wide campaigns for health, life saving and disease and accident prevention are carried on by the Red Cross. This organization is the largest employer of Public Health Nurses in rural communities in America. It still carries on for the sick and disabled of the World War, handling nearly 30,000 claims and requests monthly for ex-service men and women.

When disaster strikes, the nation turns to the American Red Cross. Sixty-six disasters—tornadoes, floods and other catastrophes called the Red Cross into action this year.

These and many other fields of social service are directed by the American Red Cross, the support of which is derived chiefly through subscriptions to the Annual Roll Call. Three million members is the goal for the Roll Call this year.

The goal of the Putnam County Chapter of which Rev. V. L. Raphael is chairman is 800 members. This drive is being organized under the direction of Mrs. Frank Donner of E. Seminary street, Roll Call Chairman.

Mrs. Donner has not yet announced her plans for the campaign, but every person in Putnam County will have the opportunity to participate in the Red Cross Service Campaigns through membership.

It rates one-half of one percent more than any ear ever judged at the Iowa state fair.

ANXIETY FELT FOR SAFETY OF DARING FLIER

TINY MOTH PLANE FIGHTS GREAT ODDS ON ATLANTIC DASH.

NOT SEEN BY STEAMERS

Fuel Supply Should Be Exhausted. No Trace of Plane Since Leaving Canadian Coast.

LONDON, Oct. 18. (UP)—Grave anxiety was felt this afternoon for the safety of Lieut. Commander H. C. MacDonald, Royal Navy, retired, who left Harbor Grace, N.E., at 10:40 a. m. C.S.T., yesterday on an attempt to fly across the Atlantic to Ireland or England.

At 3:40 p. m. (9:40 a. m. C.S.T.) Commander MacDonald had been gone from Harbor Grace 23 hours, and no word had been received of his whereabouts.

MacDonald's plane carried 100 gallons of gasoline, which was estimated sufficient for 20 hours in the air. On the basis of this estimate, his fuel supply should be exhausted by noon (GMT) or 7 a. m. (EST).

LONDON, Oct. 18. (UP)—Commander H. C. MacDonald, the reticent Naval officer who started alone in a tiny plane on a trans-Atlantic flight yesterday, fought against great odds today if his DeHaviland Gypsy moth plane remained in the air.

At 7:40 a. m. he had been in the air 20 hours—two hours more than he had set to complete the flight before he left Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, yesterday.

And from mid-Atlantic to the Irish coast, and even through most of the mainland of the British Isles, this morning there were reports of high winds, rain and poor visibility.

There was no positive knowledge of the amount of fuel MacDonald carried on his daring adventure.

One report said that the Moth was fueled for 20 hours in the air, giving MacDonald only two hours margin over the time he had set for the flight. He was expected to follow the course which Alecock and Brown followed in 1919 when they flew across in little more than 16 hours.

But when the twentieth hour was passed, there was no word of the young naval officer.

The keenest interest had been awakened in the British Isles over the flight—mainly because MacDonald had matched daring against nature.

One year ago MacDonald started flying. After only a few hours as a solo pilot he went alone on a hazardous trip to the Near East.

When he went to Newfoundland in September, he took over a DeHaviland Gypsy Moth machine.

It is one of the tiniest of the planes now in use in the British Empire. Its wing spread is only 26 feet. It has only 85 horse power.

MacDonald said it would develop 100 miles an hour against the winds in the Atlantic.

Mrs. MacDonald remained awake throughout the night and was close to the telephone, awaiting some favorable word of the flight's progress. None was received.

"While of course I am anxious I have every faith in the venture," she remarked. "I think his course will be towards Ireland and that he will land some place in Ireland."

"Had I been inclined to sleep last night I would have been unable to do so because the telephone was ringing throughout the night as many friends called."

Miss Young is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Young of this city.

Mr. Dailey has been attorney for some Public Utilities of Indiana, the most dangerous and powerful influence in Indiana politics today.

The interests of the people are sacrificed to the desires of the corporations for which Mr. Dailey is largely responsible.

Every voter of Indiana ought to read the September number of "Farmer Dicks Pitchfork," published at Marion, Indiana, wherein Mr. Dailey records in connection with Public Utilities, is set out in detail. It reflects no credit on Mr. Dailey.

Mr. Dailey is held up as a good and highly respectable citizen, I concede it.

But when he gives his support to Al Smith which is another name for Tammany he endorses his policies, which would open the doors to a large influx of undesirable immigrants, practically nullify the 18th Amendment and modify the Volstead Act, to such a degree, as to ultimately re-establish the infamous saloon, where one could "put his foot on the brass rail and blow off the foam."

It is urged in his favor, that Mr. Dailey prosecuted and convicted the Don Roberts crowd. Well, any other attorney would have done the same, given the opportunity and the fee, but he did not convict Joe Bell. Why?

When Mr. Dailey not only gives his support to Al Smith but says of him as he did in his speech at Hammond, that "No greater figure has appeared in Democratic ranks since the party was formed," he subscribes to his policies and all the evil consequences and aligns himself with the social forces that would undermine American institutions, destroy American ideals, sacrifice principals to what he believes to be policy and forfeit all rights to the confidants and support of the people in matters pertaining to temperance and prohibition.

A man is no better than the company he keeps.

Mr. Harry Leslie is just as good a man as Mr. Dailey, as a respectable law-abiding citizen, no doubt his equal in point of ability, and moreover, has a qualification and recommendation, which Mr. Dailey has not. He is a Republican, owes no allegiance to Al Smith as Tammany, which are the same.

He stands for Republican principles, the 18th Amendment, the Volstead Act and for all legislation that will protect American Citizenship and American Institutions, from the dangers of undesirable immigration, the lowering of American standards of morality and promote the integrity and righteousness of our national life.

Burial will be in the Moore Cemetery in Parke County. Mrs. Martin died at her home on South Locust Street, Wednesday morning, of heart trouble.

Under the direction of Elmer G. Sulzer, DePauw '23, the University of Kentucky Band will give a twenty minute musical program following an address by the Hon. Flem D. Sampson, governor of Kentucky, and Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, over WEBB, Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, Ill., at 8:30 p. m. Saturday night October 20.

Sure the times are hard! Indiana issued 4,587 more automobile licenses in the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, than in the previous year. The figures are 869,616 in 1927 and 874,203 in 1928 and the fees paid the state was $280,080.80 above those of 1927. What a poverty stricken people are those of the United States, remembering Indiana is but one of 48 states.—Rockville Republican.

WHY DAILEY?

Mr. Frank Dailey, the Democratic Candidate for Governor of Indiana, is out begging for Republican votes.

He talks in a large way about Corruption, the necessity for a clean up, and reforming things in general, but fails to be specific.

There has been no defalcations, by state officials, no malfeasance in office, no misappropriation of public funds.

State affairs have been well managed, by the present administration, as I have heard several leading Democrats say nothing the last few weeks.

So Mr. Dailey can point to no corruption, as misconduct of state officials in matters relating to our state affairs as a reason for voting for him.

The truth is, it is a case of desperation, on the part of Mr. Dailey who is being repudiated by so many Democrats on account of his affirmation with Tammany, as shown by his support of Al Smith, that he realizes he must recruit his shattered forces from the Republican ranks, or else go down in defeat.

Mr. Dailey has been attorney for some Public Utilities of Indiana, the most dangerous and powerful influence in Indiana politics today.

The interests of the people are sacrificed to the desires of the corporations for which Mr. Dailey is largely responsible.

Every voter of Indiana ought to read the September number of "Farmer Dicks Pitchfork," published at Marion, Indiana, wherein Mr. Dailey records in connection with Public Utilities, is set out in detail. It reflects no credit on Mr. Dailey.

But when he gives his support to Al Smith which is another name for Tammany he endorses his policies, which would open the doors to a large influx of undesirable immigrants, practically nullify the 18th Amendment and modify the Volstead Act, to such a degree, as to ultimately re-establish the infamous saloon, where one could "put his foot on the brass rail and blow off the foam."

It is urged in his favor, that Mr. Dailey prosecuted and convicted the Don Roberts crowd. Well, any other attorney would have done the same, given the opportunity and the fee, but he did not convict Joe Bell. Why?

When Mr. Dailey not only gives his support to Al Smith but says of him as he did in his speech at Hammond, that "No greater figure has appeared in Democratic ranks since the party was formed," he subscribes to his policies and all the evil consequences and aligns himself with the social forces that would undermine American institutions, destroy American ideals, sacrifice principals to what he believes to be policy and forfeit all rights to the confidants and support of the people in matters pertaining to temperance and prohibition.

A man is no better than the company he keeps.

Mr. Harry Leslie is just as good a man as Mr. Dailey, as a respectable law-abiding citizen, no doubt his equal in point of ability, and moreover, has a qualification and recommendation, which Mr. Dailey has not. He is a Republican, owes no allegiance to Al Smith as Tammany, which are the same.

He stands for Republican principles, the 18th Amendment, the Volstead Act and for all legislation that will protect American Citizenship and American Institutions, from the dangers of undesirable immigration, the lowering of American standards of morality and promote the integrity and righteousness of our national life.

Missionary Society Meets.

Despite lowering skies a large, loyal and enthusiastic group of women assembled in the hospitable home of Mrs. H. B. Gough for the regular monthly October meeting of the W. M. S., on Wednesday afternoon. More and more the Christian women of America are feeling that every missionary constitutes a pledge of duty and is to be worked out under God's directions to help men and women of our land and other lands. Some one has beautifully said: "The sun does not shine for a few trees and flowers, but for the wide world's joy. So God sits effulgent in heaven, not for a favored few, but for the universe of life." And he puts it in the hearts of men and women to do their bit for humanity and to build His Kingdom here upon the earth.

Mrs. Briggs and her helpers presented "Good Tidings of Good", the fourth project which has to do with subscriptions for the magazine "Woman's Home Missions," and brought out by the Jubilee committee of the National Society. The serial story as told was most interesting, as a result many subscribed for the paper.

Mrs. J. P. Allen Sr., presented in a most fascinating way her subject for the afternoon "Looking Two Ways," the story of the primitive conditions in which men and women labored to build the church in a new land is more wonderful and potent than any romance that could be written of those early days when religious liberty and equality was being

SOW NEEDS CARE AFTER FARROWING

Improper feeding in first two weeks likely to work harm to litter.

The time when feeding the fall farrowing brood sow counts most is the first two weeks after farrowing, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. During this period, it is especially easy to so upset the sow from improper feeding that both she and her litter will suffer severely. Fall and winter-farrowed pigs need special care.

The experience of successful hogmen shows that during the first few days care must be taken that the sow is exercised and not overfed. For the first 24 hours following farrowing, she should receive no grain at all, but should be supplied with all the fresh, lukewarm water she will drink. The second day one double handful of meal given as a thin slop should be given. A good meal mixture for feeding at this time consists of equal parts of ground oats, bran and shorts. The second day the allowance can be increased to double handfuls to the feed. On the third day the amount raised to double handfuls. On the fourth day give the sow four double handfuls and for the next three days double handfuls of meal to the sow are the proper amounts. After the first week, the sow be brought up gradually to a satisfactory combination of feed for feeding after the first mixture of 50 pounds ground corn, barley, or grain mixture and 50 pounds ground oats. Feed one pound of skimmilk for each 100 pounds of sow's weight, depending on the condition and the number of piglets. Increase this amount gradually to about 2 1/2 to 3 pounds of grain mixture for each 100 pounds of the sow's weight. For sows not on pasture, feed to alfalfa or other legume hay rack in addition to the grain mixture feed will give the sow suits.

MISS NELLIE BUCK

Feeling that she is doing a service to all who suffer from troubles of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, or from neuritis, rheumatism or nervousness, Miss Nellie Buck, 2319 College Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., is happy to tell the world what this modern medicine did for her.

"With nervousness, aggravated stomach troubles, headaches, pains across my back and kidney affliction that got me up many times a night,
I was in a badly run down condition," says Miss Buck, happy again with new and glorious health. "My brother, who had found Konjola the very medicine he had sought so long, insisted that I try the new compound, and he bought me two bottles. The very first dose made me feel better, and quickly my ailments began to wane. My appetite returned, my nerves were calmed, my nights full of rest, and now I am strong again, full of energy and the joy of living.
What this wonderful Konjola did for me it will surely do for others, and I wish to add my recommendation to those of the many thousands who have found in this compound new health."

Konjola is sold at Greencastle, Ind.
in the Owl drug store, and by all the best druggists in the towns in this

SEES RUIN IN TARIFF STAND OF THE DEMOCRATS

Veteran Engineer Recalls Bread Lines of Previous Administration.

FLAYS GOVERNOR SMITH

Leland Declares His Election Would Be Greatest Calamity Which Could Befall Nation.

"We tried this Democratic free trade policy in 1893, and those of us who can remember the bread lines, the poverty and the suffering have no desire to repeat the experiment," says Henry M. Leland, veteran engineer of Detroit, Mich., in a letter to Chairman
Work of the Republican National Committee. "We tried it again in 1913 with similar results, but were saved from further disaster only by the world war."

"Al Smith, together with Tammany Hall, which he now dominates, and the members of the Democratic party in the past have stood like adamant for either absolute free trade or a tariff for revenue only."

"If tariff schedules are reduced to a point where manufacturers in the cheap-labor countries of Europe can bring their products into this country and undersell our products, there is then only one of two things to do—reduce wages or close down plants throwing millions of our workmen into idleness. The want and distress are absolutely indescribable."

"I have studied the history of Al Smith since he was a boy mingling with other boys on the sidewalks of New York. I have scanned his record during the twelve years he was a member of the Legislature of New York, and his record as Governor of that state. To my mind it would be difficult to imagine a greater calamity that could befall this country than his election to the Presidency."

"As this letter would be too lengthy if I should attempt to catalogue a complete list of my reasons for the foregoing statement, I will confine myself to only one or two of the economic reasons for my convictions."

"One of these is the Protective Tariff. Al Smith, together with Tammany Hall which he now dominates, and the members of the Democratic party in the past have stood like adamant for either absolute free trade or a tariff for revenue only. Is it reasonable now to expect the leopard to change his spots?"

Affects 30 Million

"Our thirty million wage earners work altogether the shortest hours and receive by far the largest wages of any wage earners on earth. If tariff schedules are reduced to a point where manufacturers in the cheap-labor countries of Europe can bring their products into this country and undersell our own products, there is then one of two things for our industries to do and that is reduce wages to meet that competition, or close down their plants throwing millions of workmen into idleness. Our people largely spend as they go; in fact many of them spend far in advance of their incomes, and the want and distress which would result from the cutting off of their incomes, and the result to their creditors, are absolutely indescribable."

"Abraham Lincoln said that if we bought a stove or a locomotive made in Europe, then we had the stove or the locomotive, but Europe had the money."

"On the other hand, if we bought a stove or locomotive which was made in the United States, then we not only had the stove or locomotive, but we also had the money with which it was bought. This is a simple problem, but it is far-reaching and of the greatest possible significance to the workmen of America."

"The difference is the difference between the 'full dinner pail' and the 'empty dinner pail,' between a nation of many millions of well-paid thrifty citizens as against millions of people struggling with poverty."

"Not since this nation was born has the electorate had the opportunity to draft as its head a man the equal of Herbert Hoover, a man so thoroughly equipped by experience, judgment, ability and integrity to cope successfully with the vast multiplicity of problems which confront us, and capable of leading us onward and upward to further greatness."

"With that opportunity, it is incomprehensible that an enlightened citizenry would allow itself to be set backward a half a century by surrendering its destiny to Tammany Hall with its unsavory record of Booze, Boodle and Bunk."

Wells and America

Mr. H. G. Wells made a survey of the United States a number of years ago. In the book, 'The Future in America,' which he published as the result of his research, he asked: "Is the average citizen honest? Is he a rascal in humbug and grain? If he is, the future can needs be no more than a monstrous social disorganization in the face of divine opportunities." Whatever the future may have in store for us, Mr. Wells' phrase is a good description of large portions of the past as seen with Tammany Hall as a focus.—M. R. Werner, in Tammany Hall.

Main Street Publisher Praises Hoover Defense of Small Town

W. H. Hill Declares the Country Communities Will Cast Tremendous Vote for Hoover.

William H. Hill, a rural farm leader and editor, has risen to commend Hoover's Tennessee speech for its warm defense of "Main Street." Mr. Hill, who is the chairman of the Hoover-Curtis campaign committee in New York State, comes from Binghamton, a typical up-state "Main Street" city, and he says that Hoover's appreciation of this type of American community shows the candidate's rare human qualities.

"Surrounded by the hospitality of the South land," said Mr. Hill, "Hoover was moved to make another speech which displayed his rare human qualities as did his address at West Branch, Iowa. It is fortunate that these two settings were chosen, because he has proven in his talks to people of small communities that he has a depth of feeling not accorded to him even by some of his staunch supporters, and a genuine personal interest in people at large, which is the first prerequisite of a great President."

"Hoover's warm defense of 'Main Street' particularly appealed to me, for I am a 'Main Streeter,' and since I had the honor to be selected by him to come from the 'Main Street' of Binghamton and head his campaign committee in New York State, I cannot doubt the sincerity of his appraisal of the citizens of smaller towns and cities."

"I know, too, that it is the small community in this State that will vote the most enthusiastically on Election Day. Everywhere, 'Main Street' loves Herbert Hoover, and Hoover, as he said in his address, considers that much maligned thoroughfare as a source of strength when crisis comes. The feeling is entirely mutual and Hoover need have no fear that the 'Main Streets' of the country will not arise behind him in the crisis he will face on November 6."

Hoover Is Best Bet

The likelihood is that, under Herbert Hoover's direction, agriculture would achieve stabilization more quickly, more certainly, with fewer waste motions, and with less knocking and backfiring and gear-grinding than under the direction of any other human being.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Jobs for 3,000,000

More than 2,000,000 families in the United States earn their living today producing goods for export, and another million families earn their living in the manufacture of raw materials which we import in exchange for our exports.—HERBERT HOOVER in his Newark speech.

BEER WAR FLARES

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (UP)—One man was dead today and another critically wounded in a flareup of the dreaded war for control of the south side beer industry.

The victims, Ross J. Murphy, who was killed, and Mike Quinlin, who was wounded, were the targets of machine gun fire from a slowly moving automobile while they stood in front of a south side soft drink parlor owned by Bob Nugent, an ally of Ralph Sheldon, former ally of Al Capone.

The assailants, it was believed, were members of the Stubby McGovern gang. McGovern is another former Apone aide and Ike Sheldon had broken with his former chief.

KILLED A DOG, NOT WOLF

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 18. —When is a wolf not a wolf? The Vigo County council answered, "When it is a sheppard dog."

Marvin Ray brought to the court house the body of an animal he had slain and asked payment of a $20 bounty offered by the county for each wolf killed.

The animal was brought before the council members and they were unanimous in declaring it a dog. Dr. William B. Hunt, county health commissioner, agreed with them.

But Ray is not convinced. His bounty claim is on file and he shows a disposition to demand $20 worth of action on it.

MOVIES

AT THE GRANADA

"The Red Raiders," a powerful historical western drama of the pre-Civil War hostilities between the army and savage Indians, is the feature photoplay at the Granada Friday and Saturday.

Starring Ken Maynard, the dashing western hero, the new western represents the most interesting of the series produced by the Charles R. Rogers company for First National.

The story involves the attempts of rebel Indians to wage war against the settlers, and the intervention of the U. S. Cavalry to restore peace. It was taken from a true chapter of American history which witnessed the first Indian reservation established by the government, and the events preceding this move.

AT THE VONCASTLE

Several World War veterans who were captured and detained in German prison camps served not only as extras but as unofficial "technical advisers" in "Two Arabian Knights," United Artists Picture now showing at the Voncastle theater.

William Boyd and Louis Wolheim, heading the cast as a pair of American buddies, are fellow prisoners in an enemy camp in the early part of the story. Mary Astor plays the feminine lead. When veterans were recruited to appear as prisoners of war of various nationalities, it was found that a number of them actually had been imprisoned in Germany.

During filming of the prison camp sequences, these men were called upon almost daily by Director Lewis Milestone and Charles Griffin, technical director, in deciding questions of settings and conduct in the camp. The result, according to Milestone, is an accurate screen chapter of World War history.
